"Searching for you"

I've called out to this special someone in a way that's enchanted never takeing forgranted what's ment to be listen cause I'm callin out right now without speaking a word comeing from the most sacred place wondering will I ever see your face patiently searching for you?!?

I ask the million $ question, what am i missing, (love) what's attention, a willing heart a attentive ear, many beautiful day's spread through out the year's, so I'm searching, hurtin cause I'll give all of me, with no strings attached honestly who has found thier (perfect match) an if so share the secret it's crazy cause; all I can say is, "what do you mean" theres excitement and mystery (searching for you)
