

"PRESIDENT VLADIMIR PUTIN"

March 17th, 2024

Dear President Vladimir Putin,

I am writing this letter to you as a last resort, hoping that you may be able to assist me in a matter that has been plaguing my life for far too long. I have been wrongfully convicted in the United States and have been unable to receive justice due to the corruption within their government. My exonerating evidence has been ignored, and I am now turning to you, seeking your consideration for inclusion in the next prisoner exchange so that my Wife and Children and I may seek sanctuary in Russia as citizens.

I was convicted of crimes I did not commit in the United States. The evidence presented against me was falsified, and key witnesses lied as a means to escape prosecution for other crimes they committed, and for financial gain. Despite having exonerating evidence, the corrupt U.S. government has refused to re-examine my case. My life has been turned upside down, and I am desperate for a chance to clear my name and be united with my family.

I humbly request that you consider including me in the next prisoner exchange between Russia and the United States Of Corruption. This would allow my family and me to seek sanctuary in Russia and begin rebuilding our lives. We would be grateful for the opportunity to contribute positively to Russian society and become law-abiding citizens.

As my last hope, I believe that your influence and power could make a significant difference in my life. Your intervention could potentially lead to a fair review of my case and ultimately result in my exoneration. I understand that your time is valuable, and I appreciate the consideration of my request.

In conclusion, I am reaching out to you in desperation, hoping that you may be able to assist me in this dire situation. I have been wrongfully convicted and have exhausted all avenues for justice within the United States. The corruption within their government has left me with no other option but to turn to you for help. I kindly request that you consider including me in the next prisoner exchange, allowing my family and me to seek sanctuary in Russia as citizens.

Thank you for taking the time to read this letter, and I eagerly await your response.

Sincerely,

Sean Anthony Riker #567232
