

Milo Rose blog entry - <http://betweenthebars.org/blogs/5296/>

TARGETING - BACK

I am a crime victim who has been persecuted for over 30 years by a vigilante justice system operating openly within the state of Florida's legal community. Defining Florida's legal system as a criminal enterprise controlled by racketeer's profitting off of bondage and slavery. The fact that as a victim speaking out against these mobsters/ slave traders who found another way to capitalize off of human bondage ^{MEANS} I am placing a high target on my back. Maybe I am a fool to believe by speaking out against the abuse I suffer as an innocent falsely imprisoned for murder and sentenced to death, someone will come to my rescue... This blog gives me a voice to speak out against the abuse I suffer, which is an indictment of those responsible. Only as of yet, no one has volunteered to help me officially document the abuse, and indict those responsible. So here I am; speaking out against the abuse I suffer at the hands of a criminal enterprise operating under the pretense of serving justice. With the deck having been stacked against me from the start as I was pronounced to be guilty until proven innocent. While not only having been tried in a kangaroo court, but also suffering the abuse of a kangaroo appellate process. An investigation of my allegations will expose those guilty of betraying societies trust to be vanguards in protecting the integrity of the law. Help me prosecute these vigilante's/racketeers to the fullest extent of the law, and prove Justice carries a double edged sword. Thank you, for reading my blog. Please share it with others, as I am in need of building support to overcome the injustice I suffer...

Respectfully,
Milo Rose