

DEAR BRIGITTE

Hey bpaige.50, Hey big sis, glad to see some family on my blog, tell them chillin' to show me some love and come to my blog. I had no idea that you went back to school, I'm so proud of you and Brittnay & Brinetta, and tell that Baby I said being an LVN is an honorable profession and it brought tears of joy to my eyes to know that my family is so strong. You tell Lil Pukkin I said I'm so proud of him blessing us with our next generation. While he is doing nothing, he can come to my blog and look around and find something that will inspire him to do better than his older generation. I believe in him, but he's got to get out in that world and set a greater standard for his son. Wise choices. If you want to get at me privately, write me at S.Q, all of my blog spots are open to anyone. Thanks for telling me about sis Angie, I need to know that she is being cared for, give her my love. Tell Mom I love her and music and the piano will always be a vital part of what holds our family together, hug Johanna for me, and did you know that Glover has been a real solid BIG BRO to me? Love is never late, in fact, it's right on time because I spend a lot of time trying to figure out how to engage my daughter, and so far, this blog work is my way of getting at her, so having a BIG BRO right now has helped eased some stress. I know that my writing style far from what the world is used to, but, it's from my heart and I'm not willing to compromise my version of reality for nothing. I hope she is reading my blog. I love you so much, send my love to Willis, and it looks like you can't find that photo, don't forget, all of you have my permission to upload photos on my blog, or just send them to me. Send the family to:

betweenthebars.org/NewGenerationRising

290T

Love you Lil Bro.