Hi Bill,

It has been a while since I have sent you any comments. However, I was wondering if you might be interested in a pen pal???? If so, send along your current contact information.

Life Prisoner seeks outside contact for sincere long-term friendship based on principles of openness and honesty. Are you that special someone willing to exchange letters? If you are interested in intellectual dialogue and have an exuberant personality, I have a strong desire to expand my horizon ~ if you will write to me at:
