Well just finished bathing, now waiting for them to call me for visit.

This idiot next door, his feelings are hurt cause I stopped messing with him. He's a fraud any way. Want to be gungster, were men not children! "But if you listen to them talk, there's nothing slightly intelligent about the conversation!" And I mean NOTHING!!

I miss being surrounded by highly intelligent well educated guys, who have meaningful discussions on law, religion, society, F.D.O.C. prison system and the industry. There's only three guys on this floor of 17 No, five guys whom you could have an intelligent conversation with.

I've got to get a better night's sleep than I got last night. I'm going to order some sleeping music for my mp3-player. In fact I'm going to go through it now while I'm waiting.

Back from visits, didn't get out there until almost 10am. There was something going on on D-wing the squad was over there and using gas, so they wouldn't close the door, and wouldn't walk by there. Still had a good visit. I'm about ready for bed. I did go some research this morning and found some sleeping music on the player. I'll order it this week. We got bar and cell checks tonight, and weight, I hope they do it early, I'm ready for bed.
