"To know and yet not to do is in fact
not to know."

~Wang Yang Ming

Just finished up a couple new drawings and decided to shoot them out into cyber space.
The stretchy skin is new for me; does it work?

I really don't like to draw unless I have some good tattoo magazines to work with.

I recently received a list of 2 player games (75 games). I'm looking for any new games that can be played in solitary confinement.

EXAMPLE: Chess

We call out our numbers to move. Both players have a board. Anyone out there have suggestions?
Go was on my list, but I'm waiting on the rules to show up.

Pictures, who has photos of themselves they will send me so I know who's writing me?
It's NOT a beauty contest so don't be shy. As ugly as I am, NO ONE should worry. I'm working on getting another photo of myself without all the facial hair. I'll try to post it before 2011.

Anyone concerned about being politically correct IN WRITING a convict? As far as I'm concerned, BE YOURSELF. If you can't be yourself when writing me, try for someone historically famous. Just BE YOURSELF.

I'm not shy so ask away.

Oh, any avid book readers got any "must reads", let me know. It's hard for me to get books, but when I can, I want only the best. I just read all (except the last book) TERRY GOODKIND SERIES RE The War Wizard & Mother Confessor. It's a 12 book series starting with "Wizard's First Rule" Dad a Series!

Gotta sleep. It's 2 AM.

Take Care!

Always,
Mimi Brumley
