

March 30, 2011

WELCOME TO PAUL BEHIND THE WALL

Listen people, What is really going on in Japan? My heart is so sad. The pictures I see on television of the devastation makes me want to run over there and help, give a hand, wipe a tear, feed and clothe them. I can't help but wonder if that will be us one day. Hey, I'm from Oakland, California, that's in the San Francisco bay area where there are many fault lines and where eventually a very , very big quake is predicted to happen one day.... Are we ready? They thought they were ready...

They report that we have nothing to worry about as far as radiation fall out and yet they have evacuated U.S. citizen's and moved our navy, hmm?? Every day it gets worse, a leak here or there, then puddle and now the sea? But don't worry we are okay? I'm in prison and it scares me, I have family, I have friends, relatives, I cannot help but wonder will this get worst before it gets better??? First the Oil Spill in the Gulf, and now radiation in Japan...Creator what are you telling us? Will we listen??...

This is Paul Behind the Wall and these are my thoughts from a prisoner's point of view.....

A handwritten signature in dark ink, appearing to be 'tegh' or similar, located at the bottom left of the page.