

MY FATE...

How can I exist in chains, when my mind is stronger than the links that hold me down???

I am held down, but I still keep my head up...A test of my existence as a man. I "over-stand" this plan, through "didactic tactics."

Therefore, "I am still a man." And I can wallow or swallow my fate...I can take these gates as a barrier, or a bridge to knowledge, strength, and wisdom...

And when I am down, I will not give them control...Because in these confines only GOD has my soul...
