

"Freedom"

Freedom is something I Long For.

From behind this Locked Door.

Freedom is only for the Kind.

With a real sound mind.

Freedom is a matter of time.

for this small crime.

Freedom is not a game.

So I can't be lame.

Freedom is for the Right

So mankind must be Bright.

Freedom is something that's precious.

and, I must and will take it serious.

Freedom is not for the Bad.

Please don't become Mad.

Dr. Martin Luther King Jr.

5-8-11

My First Choice is Martin Luther King Jr., who was a leader in the Civil rights movement as well as a great speaker. His demands for a peaceful revolution for blacks America, resulted in His winning the "1964" Nobel Peace Prize. Unfortunately, He also became the target of racial violence, which resulted in His assassination at the young age of 39.

Under His Leadership, the Civil Rights movement gained wide support. In honor of His efforts, King became one of the few African Americans whose Birthday is Observed as a Holiday.

Martin Luther King Jr. / Fought for Civil Rights and Equality.

P.S. I want some feedback on these two Courageous and Sexy Men.

I'm open for any opinions and, comments.

Malcolm X

My second choice is Malcolm X was getting in trouble with the Law at a young age. HE went to Prison, and began to study His Dictionary from front to back Plus, the Nation of Islam (NOI).

And became a Muslim in there. His Father got killed, During this time. His Mother lost Her mind after the tragedy she was put in a Mental Ward.

Shortly after His release from "prison" He went to live with an Aunt. Then next He went on to Form His own Nation of Islam (NOI) Organization, Himself.

And led His People African Americans to Freedom in Justice.

He was Married to Betty Shabazz His Wife. He also had three daughters with Her. Malcolm X wrote several Novels about Justice, Race Human Rights, etc. While here on Earth. He was a revolutionary advocate of Black Rights. He was assassinated in February 1965.

He left Betty Shabazz His Wife as a Widow now. Malcolm X was Well Known for His speeches in Interviews all over the World let me name a few Africa, Ghana, United States, Great Britain, London, Europe. His Theory was to Demand Respect No Matter What, And I Love it. In my eyes Malcolm X was a strong African American Man that Died for what He stood for And that was Justice and, Respect From ALL MANKIND

"Professional Athlete"

Here's another one of my Favorites, From the NFL Team Called Pittsburgh, Steelers. This is all the information I have on Him at this time.

I want this posted on my Blog and I want others feedback on it! Professional Athletes they are Hot to me. Here's the little History of this Lovely Man.
