Blog,

Today is Sat, 4-30-11 its about 10:30pm
This last week has been real hard for me I have not had any good news or money come in lately, So im running low on all the basics like Soap & Tooth paste. I've been hoping to hear from Someone wanting a painting but no luck So far. By the time I mail this out I should have got a letter back from between the bars with any of your comments, if I do I will reply before Sending this out. Right now im writting just to vent a little while passing a little time. Im hoping theres Someone out there reading all this who will write me and maybe give me something to look forward to, it really sucks not having any real friends and always being around people who dont care, dont get me wrong there are some good people in prison, but in here all you really have is yourself.

well I dont have much to write about and I still have no clue who is reading this or what you would like to know So for now god bleSS,,, I hope to hear from you.

Today is 5-11-11

I just got a letter from between the bars and first I would like to reply to Tuka 108, Jean Hi I just seen you left me a post and wanted to reply, I must say ive never met or talked to a Canadian before and look forward to hearing from you again. AS for School I have my GED and have earned 12 credits so far in math<sup>tech</sup> and history, they also offer auto class and a few others but they have been cutting back on everything witch makes it all a little harder.

How about you or anyone else reading this, what do you do for work or fun? I love reading and painting but being locked up keeps me from doing more, I use to love fishing and cant wait for the day I can go out to a lake again.

Anyways Thank you for taking the time to reply I will be waiting to see what you have to say. This week ive been cutting grass and weedeating all day my feet hurt and im burnt, but still alive. Bobby H.

P.S. Sorry about the handwriting! 😊
