I am a Concerned, Incarcerated American man of African descent; And in the last 7 years I have been finding myself wondering where is America headed as a society???. When we stop and take a long, careful look around today we see our legislators and politicians passing all sorts of corrupt laws in which to govern the people. We see a declining, immoral, and vulgar culture. Our country engaged in 3 wars (all at the same time). All against, by chance, Islamic nations. We see (parts of) America passing laws legalizing the use of ~~Marijuana~~ Marijuana as a social and recreational device. We see perverse laws being passed. Laws such as homosexuality. When I was growing up in the late 1970's and 1980's I was taught that homosexuality was not just a sin, but also an evil. But today I hear such American notables, as Rev. Al Sharpton, saying it's o.k. and that Black Americans should accept it and promote it. I have immense veneration for the Rev. Al Sharpton because of the many good things he has done for Black Americans (in the area of race-relations), and America as a whole. On the other hand, I think the Reverend error greatly when he say to Black Americans, and other Americans, to embrace homosexuality. I have noticed more, and more attacks on religion (be it Catholic or Islam) when ever I read or turn on the T.V. It's almost always "Terror" when the attack is against Islam. "Sexual Violence" when it's on Catholics. I have began to believe that there is some sort of clandestine, conspiratorial affront on all religion. Move religion from the forefront of Peoples' minds; and ^{they} make it something abhorred. In this way it would be easier to pass corrupt laws. It has been said by a great man that, "we will know when we're living in the last days, because children will say 'Fa!!' to their parents, men will go unto men, women will go unto women, and everything good will be considered evil and everything evil will be considered good. People will go into space and come back with blood on their arrows (Guns, bombs, planes, rockets, etc...) and say 'we pierced the heart of God'".

All Concerned Americans, ^{are} we living in the last days?

When we take a look at technology, such as the internet, cell phones, texting, has it helped or hindered American Society? We're hearing more and more about all sorts of scandalous, hideous acts being demonstrated by way of the internet. We're hearing more and more about tragic, and fatal car crashes, train crashes because people are talking on their cell phones while - at the same time - attempting to operate these vehicles and machines. Infact, doctors are saying that cell phones are causing some people to have brain tumors and to actually experience memory loss. "Texting" is what alot of the young people are doing today. "Texting" sexual photos of themselves (even while in school). Many major and traditional newspapers and magazines are being driven into bankruptcy, because people wont buy news papers and magazines anymore. Why should they? Especially when they can just download off the internet. Musical artist can sell a million C.D.'s and still make little to no money, due to internet down - loading. I think some of the things I have mentioned is a feature of today's (negative aspect of) technology that people (scientists, sociologists, governors???) may or may not be looking at.

That's why I asked the question, has technology (its advancements, i.e. cell phones, internet, texting, etc...) helped or hindered American Society?

And what do we make of all the wars in the last ten years? First, the 9-11 tragedy. Shortly after that, the former president George Bush, believed the Afghanistan government was allowing Osama Bin Laden to seek refuge there, so he ordered them to hand him over. After they congregated and concluded they couldn't hand over a muslim to a non-muslim people, President Bush then declared war on Afghanistan. Then, in 2003, under the belief that ~~is~~ the late Saddam Hussein may just be harboring nuclear weapons, President Bush declared war on Iraq. (This war ~~caused~~ cost America a trillion dollars - and we wonder why we are suffering from a bad economy).

As I write this, President Barack Obama has declared war on Libya. So America is effectively engaged in three wars - all at the same time.

Afghanistan, Iraq, and Libya are all Islamic nations. This jumps out at concerned Americans ^{like} the moon over the nighttime sky. Our last two presidents have said repeatedly that America is not an enemy of Islam or Islamic societies. Yet, when one looks carefully at what's happening today in America, it becomes very difficult to believe those iterations. When we ~~look~~ go and study past civilizations - their rise, prosperity, prime, and fall - we find that in every great civilization from the ancient Cushites (their civilizations lasted 6,000 years), the ancient Egyptians (Nubians) (their civilization lasted 3,000 years), the Medieval Moors (their civilization lasted 800 yrs.), to the present European world dominance period (hitherto, 520 years) we find that arrogance, corruption, spiritual bankruptcy, (and now perversion) has led to the demise of many a great civilization. All brave, Cognizant, Concerned Americans who have an interest in a healthy American Future must begin to ask ourselves how can we keep from succumbing to arrogance, corruption, spiritual bankruptcy (and now perversion)? We must ask ourselves will we just set and be silent as our culture, our country, and our people become ^{corrupt} with perversion and mind-pollutions?

To all Concerned Americans,
