Hello world!

Back on line again! Correctional Officers at times are funny. The relationship between C.O.'s and inmates is truly "LOVE / HATE". It's hard to be serious when you see a C.O. who looks like your grandmother. Gray hair, false teeth and squeaky voice completes the picture.

There are so many knuckleheads who disrespect authority and assume "grandma" is a pushover. So I can only smile, hold my head down and bite my tongue to keep from laughing out loud as sweet looking grandma has to prove who's boss. Like a seasoned Marine Drill Instructor she will silently step into the biggest guy, with the biggest mouth and in 3 sentences have him groveling like a hurt puppy.

I hope I never piss off "grandma", because I won't be able to stop laughing. And before I can explain myself I'll have 5 other C.O.'s dragging me off in handcuffs to the hole (segregation).

Happy Easter?
