The Legal Presentation to the Court of a Indiana Prisoner's Determination to Achieve
(A Legal Exhibit)

When the prison gates close, life doesn't end education and a struggle for freedom begins. Many prisoners who are ex-gangbangers, ex-drug dealers, ex-hustlers, ex-abusers of life come to prison and actually do transform their lives one day, one month, and one year at a time.

Bro. Khalfani Malik Khaldun, (Leonard McQuay 874304), who has been in prison since he was a teenager of seventeen years old is one such prisoner. Born and raised in the mean streets of Gary, Indiana, the five-time murder capital city where black on black violence is rampant.

A byproduct of his socialization in a culture dominated by gangs he would entered the prison system. Young, angry, and disoriented, and only concerned with proving that he wasn't to be messed with. This attitude earned him some unnecessary bad attention and conduct infractions for fighting and violating prison rules. This landed him on Indiana's Prison Segregation Units. He would later mature into his manhood and began to educate himself and accept the wisdom and teaching of others.

When Khalfani Malik Khaldun was arrested he was in the 12th grade. The following list indicates the achievements he has made in recent years. This is proof that he deserves the support of the free world. Khalfani desires to be free from this bondage of oppression. He is striving for excellence even though he's in prison.
