In my last blog, I said that the Plymouth County D.A. bent testimony to destroy my wife and I. I really can't say that about my wife's trial, because I don't know that for sure. I wasn't there. However, going by what happened in my trial, there's a pretty good likelihood they did. For three years, my wife and I went to court side by side. Then when we were sitting down on what was supposed to be the first day of jury selection in our trial, the cases were severed. They split us up minutes before we were to start picking our jury. My wife was tried first in a 17 day trial, and was convicted of 2nd degree murder. A month and a half later, I was convicted of 1st degree murder in a 15 day trial.

Some of the things the DA was saying, but to my knowledge, never made it into any formal report, were absolutely horrendous. It was said that we overdosed our daughter for months to torture her before killing her. My wife and I have matching memorial tattoos for Rebecca. It was said that we knew what day we were going to kill her, and we went out before she died and had them done, complete with birth and death dates. Then when it was made known when the tattoos were ordered and

This is only scratching the surface of the garbage the D.A. was saying about my wife and I. The D.A., as I said, sank their teeth into us and wouldn't let go. They didn't seem to care that two of the people, other than my family, were drug addicts, and one of them was stealing my children's medications.

I'll be pointing out more lies and misrepresentations in future blogs. I welcome your feedback, and if you have questions, ask them and I will try to answer them. However, I don't have direct access, so it will take time to respond. So please check back from time to time, and I will answer. Probably on average once or twice a month.
