

dear Dikige,

I wanted to start this letter by wishing you a sincere and heartfelt Happy Father's day !!! I need to also state the truth of the matter that I love you, very much. I thank the Lord for you because you're the "other gift" that HE's given me in this life-time, and I'll forever praise HIM for the sacrifice of HIS son and HIS daughter... You !

Well sometimes I feel lost in translation and this is one of those times, I don't have to tell you that I grew up without some important things and that has had a lasting effect on who I am, as a man ... I haven't really had a life (yet) due to the mistakes I've made in my past. So with this letter I want you to be empathetic to my life and walk in my shoes, just for a minute or two and try to feel where I'm coming from... Years ago, I couldn't put these kind of thoughts together because I hadn't come into who Jesus Christ created me to be. I was too busy focusing on something that wasn't worth my attention. I was designed to have your back, be loyal to you and build a family with the woman I've loved from day one! I can't figure out sometimes some things that puzzle me but in the same breath ... I can't put a price tag on what you do for me, physically, biggest accomplishment... You're the closest friend that I ever wanted next to me. You the woman that took time to know me and to nurture who I am, in the ways a young man's wife is supposed to do!

You mean so much to a bad boy like me... When you mad at me (or disappointed by me), all I want is for you to whisper "I love you and I forgive you Marcus", because without hearing that whisper, I can't forgive myself and that something I have always needed!

Thank you for letting me share not only your life, but those of our 2 daughters... I love them thank you for making me a father, because being a player for me, was lonely... and that's what's real... My true needs wasn't being met, you know how it is (don't you)?

I love you!!! and if nobody else EVER understand the 2 of us... I'm good wit' that, a Circle can only be broken from the inside out... not the outside in... So, my Circle with you will NEVER be broken! Stay with Jesus Christ and everything will be blessed...

I love you, I miss you and I'm on my way, pray for me, our children, our dreams, future and sanctification... bye for now Rilige, love your husband spiritually, mentally and emotionally!!! You've held onto my hand tightly for so many years, like a Mother does her child because you know that I need guidance every now and then (smile)

"Dilina you are the father figure that I always needed... the brother I never had, you're the... God fearing Christian woman that prayed for my soul and spirit, because you truly understand that this fight is much bigger than this flesh... You the little sister that I sadly left behind and I'm so sorry for the wait, but thank you Jesus, I'm on my way!!"

Thanks for being the good example I needed to look at for what it is I need to see.

You've earned the right to be loved and honored by me, your loyalty for me has always reinforced what you have forever tried to teach me! Thank you for your time and your patience and your smile and your smell... You always smell good! Thank you very much for your discipline, you're the best psychiatrist I've ever talked too and I won't ever give that up... that's a privilege I'll never let go of, you babied me like a spoiled child because you felt that I deserved the ultimate best!!! Right? Other than coming to Jesus, your influence is my
