

"Bloggers"

hey whats up its Jason

how you all doing? what did you do for the memorial day weekend? did you take lots of pictures? dont forget you can always send pictures of the forgotten outside world if you want to. so not much going on here in prison life. Im hoping the prison is going to open up for program today. I've got a cool celly but the way you do time you have to have some alone time and some yard time and that way theres no drama in the cell. so I go outside I love to be in the sun and work out then I'll go to work and make my 8 cents per hour. yup 8 cents per hour. I laughed when I heard it also. but hey its a job and Im being productive! I save up for a month or two then I go to canteen. so Im trying to learn to play metallica's Nothing Else Matters on the guitar! its going slow but its fun. so has anybody checked out my profile yet and my picture? you can write me anytime and let me know what you think. or just write and tell me whats going on in your life. ok have a good day write soon.

Respect
&
Friendship Jason.

Im still learning how to blog. the last time I used a computer AOL was brand new! ☺ any hits let me know. .. ☺
