

#23

• Abandon-Ship •

We boarded with luggage • far heavy to carry due to the enslavement of our own passions alone;

But despite its weight • luggage we carried on • optimistic of the future we were to behold • demonstrating fate •
as seen fit best;

Us loving how the ship looked while sailing
the sea •
was infatuation over-all else • which blinded our vision on how deadly and corrupt the waves could be;

Thus the ship shook violently • knocking one of us off our feet;

Up you go •
A hand of assistance was given • restoring balance •
and words of wisdom was to give strength to endure damage the waves may have conflicted upon the ship;

But not unto my surprise.
 the mate whom fell.
FALSE EVIDENCE APPEARING REAL;

And I say.
 what is love only spoken through words.
 without its notion you're able to feel?;

It didn't take long for one to jump into the sea filled with sharks.
 delightful to the naked eye;

There then I stood alone.
 prayer-ful that she.
 my ex-mate would make it to shore;

Here I stand today.
 who's able to endure. love and pain;
 Refuse to abandonment.
 when it thunder and rain;

• Abandonship.
