

“MY EYES ARE THE WINDOW TO MY SOUL...”

“MY DESTINY IS...”

Hi everyone! Again, it's me shooting this quick blog to give a shout out and to share a little bit about what has been going on... I've been procrastinating for a while because I've been really busy on implementing more self-help programs here at the prison I'm serving my term.

Since my last blog, I've been viewing the national news and so much has been occurring, it's crazy! I'm sure you heard that California has been Court Ordered by the U.S. Supreme Court to reduce the inmate population and to bring it at 137.5% within the next two years. This is "Big News" here in California. Don't get me wrong, I am totally for the Three Strike Law. However, this law should go towards those who it was originally meant for, those individuals like the Richard Allen Davis, Dugard, Sandra Cantu, cases etc. Several predators out there need to be castrated and incarcerated for life!

Recently, California Legislator has passed the budget on time, for the first time, in twenty-five years! Get On!!! Oops! Sorry, Governor Brown vetoed it. Do you think this was wise of him to do such a thing? I really don't think so. The people that'll hurt and be suffering behind his actions are those who are considered low-class citizens and the elderly. Though they are the ones that will feel the effect of Governor Brown's actions, somehow, someway, something must give and this great State needs to come to terms in getting their priorities right and help the people.

Okay, we are now in our summer months - are you ready for the hot weather. It gets around 100° to 110° here in this area which I am not use too, because I was born and raised in Long Beach and the weather down there is really nice. You know, "Sunny Southern California." Wow, it's been about seventeen years since I was last down there and from what I hear, it has changed so much. It's all good though because eventually I will get out and go visit my hometown, which I really do miss.

So my friend(s), if you're reading this, don't feel shy or weird to write a person who is locked up - remember, we're all not weirdo's! Especially me! I am looking/seeking for the person who is interested in becoming acquainted with a strong-minded and down-to-earth individual such as me. There is never a dull moment with me around and we will have a great time. I just want to share some happy moments with someone that is very outgoing and that has a good sense-of-humor. Who can that be? Could it possibly be you? Are you prepared for the time of your life? What's happening then, get your pen, pencil, or computer to work and get back at me with the quickness, okay? (Smile)

Well I guess I'll close for now and hopefully I'll meet that one "Special Person." Again, who can that be?

Gratefully,
