

ANUK AUSAR!!!

There are three steps to the developement of the soul. The first being meditation.

The reason why meditation works is because it helps you to become familiar with your soul; and by stilling your mind you begin to concentrate on the self. Your energy becomes focused on your being, instead of being wasted in mundane aspects of life, such as worrying.

Breathing correctly brings sufficient oxygen to your brain so that your thoughts become more vivid, and you have less headaches. you will begin to feel more alive. A light exercise will help also.

By doing this you begin to discipline yourself; and through discipline you become one with your soul, which is really your true self.

The second step is interaction. Start living in the soul, what I mean by this is, don't base your decisions on the limitations of the physical form. Show understanding to people when you're dealing with them. Share a bit of your new found self with them. If a person appears hostile or sad, give them some of your energy by picturing in the minds eye your energy streaming to them. Or just give them a kind word.

Believe me soon this way of life will come as natural as breathing, and people will notice the enormous difference in you.

The third part is a faculty that we have been utilizing since we were children, which is our imagination; this is our creative faculty.

Everything starts in the mind. Every physical thing we have has its origin as an idea, someone thought of it. This is creating, this is art. Art doesn't actually have to be a drawing or painting.

So whatever hobby you have chosen for yourself, and whatever talent you have chosen to explore. Use your imagination, and expand on it. Come up with new ideas. Now some of them might not work at first, B.U.T. don't give up, keep at it.

"GOD LIKE ME"

I'm looking for somebody hard like
God like me
Pull a lames card like me
Will sacrafice themself for the world just like me
Who can see, through the bullshit just like me
Time ender, space walk the whole universe
Crack the atmosphere, I be the first thought thinking
Brainstorm, bring forth a swarm of soldiers
All with one mind 'let's get it on!
Slay souls, discipline thoughts within my folds
On point ,Mosthighs rule I up hold
Commit sin, master the way of the djinn
Overcome the evil that exist within
'nough said, self made ~~none~~ sons all dead
33degree burns in their forehead
Peep the shrine, then their 1/3 turns red
Devils lie saying that the heart bled
Where you at!
Death bringer, say my name twice then I appear
Through your floorboard, sight of my image put you in fear
Call your warlords and gather up all your mighty men
As of this hour all flesh will come to an end
Last day when the God transforms and slay
I don't play all I see is melee when I say
There shall be time nomore
Stick my sword into the Earth and split the core
First resurrection, call Jesus for your protection
My brethren A-Alike son same connection
Erection runs deep make your moon turn blood
Spit my water on to your Earth and cause a flood
Where you at!

"MYVERSE"

It's the God
Three pound universe in the head
Holding seven stars, my eyes pitch red
Almighty original Man black like a tire
Raising up the dead so call me Messiah
Died for my people
Grave is the ghetto
Represent the Black
Just like the afro
Walk with my head down, hood drawn tight
Sleep all day, then run amuck all night
I'm looking for that man that hung my pops from a tree
I can't run now the devil has got a hold on me
So you see I study self
Lord and master
Got knowledge of self so that spells disaster
Guns up!
Show down starts at noon
Mark of the beast will just bring you doom
Now Black fist in the air
Devils beware
The Prophets are gone
B.U.T. now the GODS are here.

NINE PRINCIPLES OF LIGHT

KETHER ELYON

UNIVERSAL LIFE CHURCH

- 1) Thought- Is the manifestation of all in existence, total awareness in harmonic motion. Before anything and after all. Thought governs time by changing the vibration of energy which is matter. To envision is to think, the mind is the well of thought. We use matter to manifest our individuality and bring light to the fact that I AM that I AM.
- 2) Development-Is motion, the only true motion is elevation caused by each scale on the chart of harmonic equations. Sound is the manifestation of vibration, the higher the pitch, the more elevated the vibration. Development is creation, which is life.
- 3) Love- Is the unification of thought and development. Love is the driving force of creation which is manifested as energy Love is also how Ones higher Self , which is the mind, expresses itself. We make ourselves manifest on this physical plane as living matter. Matter is energy vibrating at slow rate. The more solid the mass the slower the vibration.
- 4) Discipline- Is to control and structure thought. To maintain order and harmony with Self as an Individual and collectively as a whole. Discipline is to focus Ones will power.
- 5) Truth- There is only one absolute truth, which is We are created to create. What may be true on this physical plane, may not be true on the ethereal plane, the science may differ.

6) Power- Is Self-realization. What we realize is the truth in Self. Knowledge of the truth brings forth power , which enables One to see the darkest parts of reality, shining light throughout the Universe.

7) Atom- Consists of three parts, the Electron, Proton and the Neutron. The Atom is Alpha in the construction of energy on this physical plane; it is the building block of all that exist on this plane. Electrons, Protons, and Neutrons are made up of Quarks, a less confined form of energy. We individuals in Our own reality are Atoms.

8) Order&Chaos- We can never recognize and appreciate Order if We do not fully know Chaos. So in order for Us to reach perfection We created an opposing force. Resistance manifest strenght.

9) Infinity- Is the continuous realization of Self. The Omnipotent Unmovable Mover.

"Where Is The Love"

Written by Leonard Jackson
(AKA) Sporty Red

(chorus)

Where's the love brothas use to feel
Now we all pack steel and talking about keeping it real
(Where's the love)
We gots to bring it back like before
Cause if we killing up the each other, who's gone fight the war

Verse-1

Bags of scag sold for a saw buck
Old man getting drunk cause he's down on his luck
The ghetto life, come home to beat on his wife
Love for self is gone taking over by mad strife
While around the corner shorty wop, running from a cop
He 's scared of getting shot so little man won't stop
And then it happens (bam!) to the back of the head
Gun planted, lie told, neck still red
No suspention, the only time Blacks feel the tention and unite
Then it's gone life moves on it aint right
When crack is sold for a lesser price
But more time is given cause them kids aint white
While in the suburbs coke is being moved by KIs
Charges dropped kids let off with ease
Tap on the wrist, then it's back to living in bliss
While I'm in hell counting all the bills I miss
Where's the love!

Verse-2

Crime delivery, thoughts to gain chivalry
Over cops that try to lock blocks where all my Suns be It's You and I Verse All that try to contest
But for what I'm a do your going to need more than a vest
Guard your melon, youths that committed to drug selling
Just turned 15 and already a felon
Ghetto wars got my body laced with sores
From taking yours to telling my story on tours
Shaking them bird niggas, quick to lighten your dome
While all them Gods that up north just want to go home
Copping a brick, with this gold that I from a stick
Caught in the 6, any thing to get this dirt off my dick
Fresh out of slavery, with the anger my father gave to me
Build up living in this world that corrupt
But in these last days you need cream to born freedom
So by any means cause life aint half of what it seems Dreams of Nas' wishes l8 the whole planet
Crew tough like granite, talk shit you best to can it
Mind expand it, knowledge the God speak truth
Penetrate your frontal lobe like a hot 32
But I'm on the corner phone frontin' selling my cracks
The worst kind of nigga cause I never gave none back
Working for shay-whitey tricking while he pimped my knot
Giving it back for high priced gear, I need to be shot
But your man's a Macy's manicun, dipped in Marc Buccanon
Geoges Marciano Chaps by Ralph Lauren
Lost in the sauce, triple veils cover the dome
Still all the Gods that be up north just want to go home

Tears Of Creation

When I opened my eye,
Peering into the depths of my mind.
You know what I see, what I feel.
As I ponder, wander,
A tear falls from my eye,
Carrying in it's midst all that ever was,
That ever will be.
Black tears,
Vibrant oil like earth's blood.
Electromagnetic my tears,
Gushing waters of life,
Insulating the world with my grief,
And fears.
No wonder why you make me cry.
Are you Dracula,
Sucking my tears dry?
Vibrant oil like earth's blood.
My tears carry the suffering of years,
From when I fell from eden's tree.
The tree was he,
And he was we,
And we was us.
Me being my father's father,
I brought you in this world , I'll take you out.
Oh Mankind you can't cry,
Your tearducts dry,
Cataracts over your eye.
I called you brother,
Although I was your father-mother.
When I fell from eden's tree,
I forgot who I was,
Who we were, is and will be.
Me, my father's father,
My mother's mother.
Although I am androgynous,
I'm not gay, only with self I play.
Not masturbation, but master of vibration,
Bringing forth creation when I lay.
Let us create ourselves in the image of man, of mind.
I am my father's father,
My mother's mother,
I am God
