

"WEATHERING THE STORM"

I've never known a love with a fairytale ending
Rainbows and flowers in bloom
The love I know is rainstorms, thunder and lightening, suffering and doom
The only calm waters is at night, when I watch you sleep Listening to every breath you take
I can't help to think that I wouldn't change a thing
Because our love causes the Earth to quake