

I am the one lost in the night.
Looking for a Angel to make things right.
But all I find is the emptiness in the night
And only demon's fill my site.
And I fear there will never again be light
As long as demon's fill the night.
But still I search and hope to find just one Angel to make mine.

But any ways what I'm searching for is some one I can write that will write me Back.
I'm not looking for love. But then one never knows where it will be found. But I'm looking for mail and just some one to talk to. So if any one happens to know a women I could write I would be forever in your det. And if any one would like to know more about me or see a picture of me you can go to Myspace.
com and look up Netkiller112 @yahoo.com
