

= Just getting started =

In the following weeks I'll be writing about all types of shit so you can get to know me but, I'm also here trying to get to know you. So shoot me a letter, and I'll be sure to write you back. Also people, let me know what you want me to write about, or if you want my opinion on something. I'm pretty much open like a book, and you can ask me anything. I'll also be posting more pictures when I can. I'm in the hole right now for a gang fight (long story) so I don't have access to my property. I know people like to check out drawings and other shit too so, once I get back out to general population I'll work at getting some shit to post up, OK. If you can think of anything I can do to make my blog better, just let me know. Sorry, I can't post any naked pics. of myself. It's against the rules. :)

MUCH LOVE!
