

THE BEAUTIFULJAPAN NETWORK PRESENTS:

JAPAN IS NUMBER #1

This blog post will talk about one country's destiny and how it's resilience with the support of each teammate and a humble nation back at home and friends around the world, willed them to victory and how it parallels the great Japanese nation. It would be true to say that the United States was the heavily favored opponent. Japan's record against the Americans was 0-22-3.

But irregardless, the story of Japan's major and very exciting upset victory can be a harbinger of other great things to come from the great Japanese nation if everyone in the nation believes, just as the lady's soccer team believed.

As the United States started missing their shots, the Japanese team gained confidence. The powerful nation of Japan is slowly but surely gaining its confidence after a year of a tsunami, earthquakes, nuclear radiation and now tainted beef scares. We must never forget the unique history and resilience of this proud, humble and great nation. A nation of rebirth and rebuilding.

There can be no doubt that Japan will recover from a year of many sorrows. Again, just as the lady's soccer team has given us an example of a Japanese never give in, or give up attitude. The Japanese nation will, can, and must make a comeback on the world stage. It is really inevitable. Team USA dominated play for nearly all of the regulation and mostly all of the 30 minutes of extra time.

But the Japanese team ultimately found a way to win. We at the BeautifulJapan Network believe Japan will lead the world in technology, science, manufacturing and culture. Japan epitomizes the all for one and one for all mentality.

A nation that truly believes in a quiet greatness. If you are of Japanese descent, this is your chance starting now, to be a part of this great Japanese revival.

We need for you to support our movement to record and celebrate Japanese cultural excellence and Japanese cultural achievement around the world by stating after this blog post what the victory of the Japanese women's soccer team meant to you and if you see this historic win as the beginning of a new chapter of Japanese positive history in the 21st century?

Then we need for you to go to our new Japanese cultural luxury branded merchandise and apparel store at: www.cafepress.com/BeautifulJapan and buy a couple of our limited edition products.

This is your chance to make a difference by contributing to this new and fast growing movement to record and celebrate Japanese excellence and Japanese achievement around the world. Also, you can help support this movement by telling your Japanese family and friends about what we're doing, so that they may have a chance to contribute to. Stay tuned to the BeautifulJapan Network, we have some very exciting things coming in the future and we look forward to building this historic movement with you.

Thank you,

BeautifulJapan Network
