..... ANSWERING a Comment.....

Hi, from the other side of the world!

I just got your comment forward to me. Thanks. It surprised me, I sent a letter your way to thank you for the card w/ the high heel. Absolutely loved that! its standing on my shelf where everyone can see it. I sent my blog address so you could log on directly, not sure if you got it? its <http://betweenthebars.org/blogs/493/> so you can visit it directly I wish we could correspond, but yes I understand though, but feel free to always check out my life's experiences, I keep writing and keep hoping that one day someone will read my articles & just give me a chance.

Chyna is well. and of course give my regards to Joe & everyone. well I'll go & finish my next article to post. I love having an opportunity to express myself freely and honestly to the whole world & making "Precious" well known.

I have many goals, ideas, & plans for a spectacular future!!!

Be well, keep smiling & thanks for checking out my blog.....

Chyna sent some photos??

Kisses to all.

Precious

P.S. I also got the yellow paper. I wish I could write you, maybe one day. you in my thoughts ☺
I need someone to talk to

☺

..... "To the Whole World"

July 19th 2011

..... Here I am once again speaking out to the world, & thanking those who read my articles, its just another day here in a world surrounded by rage & war, though it may contain me, it will never contain my mind & thoughts. I'm sitting here wondering if I'm doing something wrong, making a wrong approach or what, but for some time now I have been searching for someone, anyone to see my writings, my profile, & to at least give me one chance. I'm searching for that chance to be able to show I have alot to offer anyone who will just take time to know me, you know most of my life I been alone, never really experienced true love but maybe once, at least I think it was true love???

So if someone out there reads this, why not go a bit further, write me, let yourself decide the caliber of individual I am, I'm not asking for anything, just a chance to express myself, my thoughts, & goals in life freely & honestly, I want to give the whole world an opportunity to know me and see I have alot to offer this world if gave '1/2 a chance. O.K. I know I've made mistakes in my past life, who doesn't make them, all we can do is learn from them, as I have done. True its depressing in here when you have no friends or family, on your own, you have no idea the toll this place can take on ones emotions, (especially an emotional person). I was raised in a hard environment of physical, & mental abuse, it Wasn't until my late teens I was finally able to at least try and show this world the good in me and the good I have to offer people in this world. So here I am, hoping for a miracle, I have no idea how long it will take for some one to see the intelligence in me: decide to know someone like me, whether were just friends, or someone who shares views/opinions on life. But until then I know one thing, I won't give up till it happens, hey I'm confident!! I have many qualities and numerous talents.

I know some people out there may not be able to get to know me due to either their in relationships or may feel its no way possible due to certain circumstances, but..... what will it hurt just to trade opinions, or ideas on things in this world? Could be an opportunity or two you find yourself coming across to maybe learn things you never knew, or maybe brighten an idea you have? I'm sure it would be worthwhile, perhaps even appreciated. So maybe you want to just once? go ahead, don't waste a perfect chance on something great!! So if this applies to you, I'm here waiting, and waiting. Thanks for reading this. Much Love to all.

♡ "Love" ♡

"Love is like a piano, first you must learn to play by the rules, then you must forget the rules and play from the heart".....

Love = is a gift that needs to be acknowledged and respected. It should be viewed & received as a blessing. It is an emotional gift. Many people say they don't know what love is, have never experienced love, and don't know if they'll ever be in love, although they long for this joyous feeling. Some even go through life w/out ever even experiencing this emotion.

♡ Love is a deep emotion.

One must also do everything necessary to ensure longevity of love rather than deplete it. This ensures that two people can become one, & still live separate lives yet survive as one. A person must nourish (feed) that feeling as well as work at it constantly & consistently, and when love does come, work at it as a team, to keep it alive. When this type of connection between two people takes place, there's a strong possibility they will both experience a deep love for each other. So love w/ your all & everything.....

..... your Love is out there, and if you search it will be found.

♡ PRECIOUS
