

Faith

Gray in the face and with life fading from the corners of his eyes, he contemplates;

I am broken,

though I still remain whole;

Yes, time may cure some things but with prayer as my Doctor and Faith as my medication;

Then it's true, Only GOD, can cure all things ...

Sometimes, we can love someone so much; Then at the end of the day, we allow them to pass based on empty circumstances; Then we spend the best of our lives regretting our very own foolish mistakes ...

Once in a Life Time;

The one less spoken

Love

For you have eradicated my will to speak, you have even stolen my desire to write;

For, OH Love

you are the sanity of my peaceful thoughts and the beauty of all my dreams;

you are, OH Love my chance to scale those stone walls of my captivity, my opportunity to experience beyond explanation;

Yes, OH Love

When GOD, wanted the eyes of man to look upon the benevolence of heaven you, me, He Gave ...

THE ONE LESS BROKEN

Into the mind of a world that appears so out of order, I find myself with blind eyes, peering, wondering to find my place. For this world offers only two choices, sink or sail and for the past 17 years, I have left my footprints in the bottom of a barren sea: So I opt to sail, Given my first opportunity...
