

Khonda Linda
1401 State School
Gatesville TX
76559

4th Blog Post

Aug 22 11

When I have nightmares of him He was a sociopath, neither logic or ordinary emotions served as a foundation for his actions. - Power and the pleasure he got from exerting it over others. Drugs & alcohol were his motivations. On these nights I woke with a sense of loss so terrible that I would prefer not ever to wake again - But I do breathe and I go on. It's what my sons would want ~~to~~ ME to do.
Would expect ME to do. I have a destiny that I must earn.

Precisely, I am just another blind human I do not get the whole picture of what transpires, I am blind and limited.
I can only try to be responsible with the knowledge, the strength, the time given to ME I must be true to my heart. My choices are measured against my own soul. Lost, shut off from everything and everyone I love, and trying not to feel. Most people live in a - Black + White world, all or Nothing while in here you must face a sea of grays. As a streak of pure cold survival runs up your spine everyday. It is NEVER easy to know the real paths in such a place you must trust your heart. I'm a decent person in a bad situation. I believe God lives in such hearts. I need help I need for just one person to hear ME AND understand. It was self-defense.
He was trying to kill ME. Why doesn't this matter to the STATE OF TEXAS?