

Dear Reader,

09-11-11

When I was a child, I used to always repeat the words back to my Mother when she would tell me that she loves me, "I Love you too, Mom."

When I was a teenager and had a girlfriend, I would always tell her that I love her and she would tell me the same.

When I became fully grown into a man, I would repeat the words back to my wife when she told me she loves me, "I Love you too, Babe."

All in all, I really never knew what love was. I was just used to saying those three little words because it became the norm and a habit with me.

Now, I know what love is and what it really means because God had revealed it to me, but when He revealed it to me, I didn't understand what He was telling me. So, after further pondering and searching, I found what He was telling me.

Therefore, I pose the question to you:
"Do you know what LOVE is?"

Sincerely,
Lawrence George Jr.
