To All the BTB UNIVERSE,

First thing 1st, I am not Lil Wayne, but, "Sorry For The Wait!" I've been dealing with alot of bulls--t, but things are beginning to look a little better for me. To all my bloggers, I'm down to 458 days left before I'm released !!! 😊

So on to the unit, some hispanic guy got stabbed saturday. And the Feds showed up, for what?, NOONE KNOWS, but whatever the reason, "I" was glad to hear they were here investigating the foul things that transpire on this unjust facility known as, Barry B. Telford. On my next blog post. I'll begin sharing with you all my experiences the last 16 years within this system that's "suppose" to correct prisoners ways of thinking, but officers actions and other offenders make the word, "Rehabilitation" seem distant and foreign. Some of these guys should've never gotten sentenced to time in here, but rather a mental institution. But as I said, I'll talk on that in my next posts.

Stay Litted,
Augustine
