Yashua,

I just received your thoughts posted 8.19 "the Bars": Awesome! I've waited so long awaiting the day that we can loving thoughts with one another, directly! yours were rather short and to the point Will's tattoo design. You do know that I to know everything about you, don't you? yes dear, I recently replied to Will's letter it took Patty to forward along with your letters), and I told him I'd like more info to design a proper family crest. I will draw quick ideas to post on this blog for him to consider while we develop this family and it is an honor I happily accept. As for you though, you are my baby girl sweetheart. Please tell me about yourself. How is school? Are you into sports, music, art, or what? Do you have pets? Hobbies? What kinda music do you listen to? What do you like on T.V.? Do you have any favorite books? Who has been the greatest influence in your life - how? what do you want your life to be like in five years - ten? Yashua, these same questions I have for you too son. I see here that you are a very prolific writer when you're up at 1:00 am replying to my B-day greetings to you and Destiny. Neither of you mentioned the card of flowers bordering the axiom: "Yesterday is already a dream and tomorrow only a vision..." so I wonder if it was posted. Did you see it? What do you think about my blog-site anyway? Have you read all of my blogs from the very first declaration: "~~The cause of human progress is my cause...~~" Let me know what you think... and feel free to ask me anything. Hey, I am proudly impressed by your dedication to "Honesty" between us.. Rest assured that I will do likewise - totally honest! You be careful... and prudent... with your honesty out there though and always consider what you post to me in cyberspace. You've got my address when "personal honesty" may be used against you by somebody out there. And look, writing me directly will speed-up our communication son. Your 8.19 "comment" finally arrived here 9.9, whereas direct "snail mail" lands in three days.

I'm grateful either way tho. And don't ever trip on me judging you harshly for anything you're doing. It makes me proud that you can honestly represent yourself with me. Will it ever give me reason to be concerned? Certainly! It will also make clear what I need to address in my prayers. For instance, when I read that you dabble in dangerous places for (7-)weeks of spare time - tho you know it's a hellish life-style... I know that you really don't wish that hell on even the greatest foes, yet... yet it is like a second nature<sup>4-4</sup> to enjoy. As if food received in your mother's womb? Yash, you and Destiny were the only ones in her womb when she was doing the christian thing - which allowed you two to develop clean and sober, as far as I know. Never the less lad, Mom and I both come from a line of addicts and alcoholics - so you have that genetic disposition I'm sorry to say. This partly explains why you do so enjoy that which you detest so much. Don't hate yourself for being weak or a hypocrite, but rather have compassion for all the loved ones who live in their own hells because of this. Listen, the spirit wars against the flesh, right? I'm going to give you a key of understanding that will let you be free to do anything in Moderation. We are Spiritual Beings, having a human experience where all things are permitted. There are consequences though - we all reap what we sow to some degree. If you plant mellonseeds you won't sow hamburgers, ya know? Simply consider the consequence of your actions - that is the key son. Oh, and let me show you something: find some rubberbands and pick one up for every thing that that repulses you, e.g. drinking alcohol, doing speed, smoking, etc. However many rubberbands you have, such as the three vices listed above... hook those<sup>3</sup> rubberbands over your two index fingers and pull them apart from one another. You'll notice that the more pressure you exert pulling away from those things you do not want to do, actually produces more pressure pulling your fingers back toward each other. (pulled rubberbands tend to snap back - right?). This is exactly what we're doing when we want so bad not to smoke, drink, snort, etc.

The more we don't want to — the more we end up doing!
 The more energy you put into stretching those rubberbands, the more energy they have pulling your fingers back together, you see? The more we don't want to — the more we do. It is the sowing and reaping law, in that you sow Thought energy — and those thoughts become reality. There is a simple solution my boy. You say: "Will I find myself doing this thing that has brought me pain for so long tomorrow?" ... "When will I stop?" Here's the solution to the rubberband phenomena: simply drop them. Don't try to pull them apart... don't fight it... drop them! Consider the consequences of indulging and rationally accept the truths of the matter and decide to stop fighting the thoughts about — whatever it is you sow energy into resisting. Rationally accept the facts and drop it. There are also 12-step Recovery groups (AA/NA) which are real helpful to sowing Thought energy into living clean and sober — while dealing with psychological issues we all have. The people there are all "in recovery", so ... go and listen and see if maybe a network can be developed there to help you realize what you want in life. Someone there knows where there is a job ... someone else knows about a place to rent ... you know? You don't have to "buckle up" cause yer going too fast — just turn that key off. You don't have to wait to wreck son! If you see that a wreck will happen, then prevent it, if you're such a wise guy. Your life really is what you make of it. Yashua, seek and you'll find; knock and it will be opened; Ask and you shall receive. These are (super-) Natural Truth's which you can rely upon. So I ask you this young man: what are you seeking right now? What do you desire enough to apply yourself to obtaining? Check to see if your Ambitions are realistic within the sowing and reaping paradigm. Can you realize your ambitions with what you've sowed thus far? Give your sister a squeeze for me and extend all my best to-ward Will too. I love you all and truly wish you all the best. Be Blessed.

* Our character, basically, is a composite of our habits;
Sow a thought, reap an action;
Sow a action, reap a habit;
Sow a habit, reap a character.
Then as you Sow that character, you'll reap your fate.
The will of man is the essence of his life!

I just wanted to add this P.S. note to say that I am working on a couple Crest designs for Will, and I will probably post them later this week for his comments.

Also, I still haven't heard anything about the 16 pictures and your (3) February letters Brandon has. Has he ever posted them? I would like those pictures back someday.

😊 Some new ones too if you can scan them onto my blog-site "comment" section.

All my best ♥

Deputy says he knew of attack plan

Remember the children

Thomas Jefferson once said: "Our liberty depends on freedom of the press and that cannot be limited without being lost." But I will keep this diatribe within the 250-word policy all the same.

I was recently awakened from my tomb within the booming Califelony industry also known as Department of Corrections and called to battle on the front lines of a new and improved civil war.

The news media echo the politically motivated report of a 40 percent drop in welfare caseloads since 1996, yet fail to mention the 86 percent increase in children placed in foster care this decade.

If I were a believer of a covert conspiracy by those elected or appointed public serpents representing the interest of the highest bidder, I would suspect that it appears when the Cold War ended then something else was required to feed the leviathan beast of Big Brother's government industries.

And considering that the Casey Foundation's Kids Count report identified 9.2 million children growing up with a collection of disadvantages that are cause for exceptional alarm, along with Desert Storm General Colin Powell's report updating us on the progress of his America's Promise agenda, mobilizing communities to turn around the lives of at risk children - it is all too clear why "It takes a village to feed the prisoners and raise their children."

Was it Adolf Hitler who said, "Give me your children and I will have them for life"? An 86 percent increase this decade, and barely a whimper is heard by we the people. For shame.
