

Hey everyone, I would like to send my condolences to everyone who lost someone in the cowardly terrorist attacks on 9/11/01. I would also like to say to anyone who kills or persecutes someone else in the name of God, that it is my belief that there is a special torment or hell, that awaits you. KARMA IS A BITCH. PEACE ☺ DONNY.

We the People

What mighty leader,
could maintain his power
without his followers holding him up?

What brilliant general could win the smallest battle without that single soldier willing to die?

What religious orator could espouse his true faith without common humanity willing to listen?

So too all you beautiful and powerful people
I say, tremble before the true strength of our species
The simple masses.

Woe be it to any who treat us with disregard or unkindness for we can pull you down just as easily as we raised you up.

Farspeering

I look into forever
and I see God looking back.
A shining eternity of never ending beauty.
A glorious reminder that we all belong.
Part of something majestic, mysterious and infinite.
A loving universe, inter-related and all encompassing.
