

9/20/11

ADDICTED

You've got me up late at night singing the blues, crying my eyes out over you. You got me dreaming of things that might never be. Sippin' on my sorrows like a glass of whiskey. You got me going through this heartache, I'm not sure what sense loves to make...

You got me up pacing these floors. Searching like an addict fiending for some more. More of the love you use to give instead of this facade behind which you've hid. You got me confused on what it is it takes to end this day to day breaking of my heart you make.

You got me going crazy wrackin' my brain ~~trying to~~ <sup>trying to</sup> ~~figure out~~ <sup>figure out</sup> why you're causing me so much pain. You're like an X pill your love I get high on it comes crashing down & your stealing my smile and my song my love how much longer will this take before it's my heart you finally break?

You got my heart twisted up like a rope, your love to me is better than any dope. I'm more addicted to you than any drug I've done it's this love that I can't outrun so baby tell me what is will finally take to make ~~my~~ <sup>my</sup> heart unbreak.

I can't help what you do

I'm just totally addicted to you.