

Wow! Wow! Wow! BIG NEWS ↓ 10-10-11

If everything I had to deal with was to see me to this point then thank you JESUS!!! Got a letter today telling me that parole went to Uncle Harold's on Monday to check my address. Oh, I pray that this is a good thing. People say that it is... still after being disappointed too many times before, I am nervous. By faith, this is going to turn out in my favor & for my good. Home... even if it's a temporary home is a good thing.

In this I am confident... God has me! Wow, I've walked down this line of thought so many times before never expecting to really get a letter saying they came by the house. I wait in expectance for the answer! PMS

In the name of Jesus! Lord, my stomach is in knots & my heart is racing too. Don't even know where this is heading - that's just me... sharing my good news. Wow! Wow! Wow! Could I say this even if they never showed up to check my address. I would have to. It's my love for God that would get me through.

JUST HOPE THIS NEWS MAKES OTHERS SMILE TOO!
