

blame what the brodd way dat?!

Dat b da sound of the door slammun' shut on my heart!

Well, a deep breath I take & look at this as another lesson I learned. Soon a while since I went against my woman's intuition or my instincts, but in a way it was a way of preparing me 4 the truth to come out. It always comes out - dontcha know?

Man - I'm trippin' people - about what the way I thought I would, it's like this... I got one chance to make it out there. I don't need someone who's going to be a hinderance to me. A man I love who has lied & cheated on me has a disability. A risk I won't take. I know the old me & how I can get down but JAMES MURTER not a part of my plan.

So Ima do what I know to do. - Put up & do me. Ima make it. Maybe when I'm standing out side these gates it won't hurt this way. I know we got to accept this pain - this betrayal and allow it to be a focal point to rise from the ashes.

Man - never in a million years would I have thought I'd relive my future husband betraying me but w! behold that's what happened. I think it's funny because I already experienced something VERY SIMILAR to this in 03! Only difference was 30 days.

I knew better. I knew it all along that a woman shouldn't get involved and allow herself to become committed in prison. I knew I shouldn't. But I did! Wheres it gotten me? We won't go there. I'm going to go... I'm not feeling to friendly.
