

Reasonably Sane (LOL)

10/12/11

Do you know me in the GAP then you know I could be thrown for dead behind my men. How things change & I am now reasonably sane. Seeing know a few of those closest to me would argue that I was certifiable @ the time we were together. Kick doors, bightens... it all went. Now, I got my head on straight & my head listens to my heart. (Do not ever go for a ride with her... a couple might say... they did not like the country... LOL)

You know I'm reasonably sane enough to still make jokes in the midst of my own pain. I re-read my comments from the 15th of October & I'm glad I'm not who I was two years ago. Some people better be glad I'm not who I was 4 years ago & damn sure not six years ago.

James (Nash) Miller: Independent will never cease to be a part of my vocabulary. Speaking of acting independent of (your spouse) over time you had sex, got head, text, tried, wrote a female the way you were supposed to do towards me - you acted independently. You now get to enjoy your independence. You earned it! You got too many things you need to list for the damage your independent thinking done to our relationship.

I'm reasonably sane enough to see through bullshit & lies. I'm a fool for not wanting to acknowledge what I already knew. You want to know something I've never known a relationship to be a dictatorship & surely ② no marriage would last that way. Not one with me in it. You chopped off the head... you did that. No one planted doubts - just truth & proof. I'd be certifiable insane if you think I don't believe Nakia - especially when she offered up the doctors. Of course that was the candle on the cake. The icing would... was the face book page.

You abused what God has given to you...

I'm reasonably sane enough to realize how fucked off this whole thing has gotten. My kids don't would say you got talked to better than they did. I was certifiable behind the girls daddies? Of course behind Raustion's dad.

I've learned to be honest & open with the rawest emotions & deepest wounds. I value my independence, know how to be interdependent & won't never be codependent ever on a man. I was independent on things that didn't cheat. Die, or do me this way. How those done me cold in a whole different way. Even on dose I was on top. I was pretty certifiable huh, Dennis.

Shoot, I had straight goons in my corner who'd get down for me & with me I was reasonably sane enough to know I need men for some things... certifiable in other things. (Lol)

Man, I value my independence & a man

(3) Reasonably Sane lol (Cont)

who respects my independence an I do this can wind out that I'm able to be fully interdependent. My mind is sharp, I've always been on point. You see I'm not dumb by any means - but I can play the role. I got many Game faces I can put on. I'm reasonably sane - I've just played crazy.

So I'ma wear this before I close...
What's crazy in a man having a down broad who loses their wet tails to realize their worth. Every ex realized after I was gone my value. Now they say they were certifiably insane to lose
me. You'll say the same.

Smile...

P.S. I'm going to do my pre-release lab work @ 1:45 PM
today...

P.P.S. Reasonably sane enough to realize I love me enough to walk away... Certifiably Insane
would be to stay
