What A Wednesday

If you were able to get inside my head you'd be amazed @ the complex thinking going on over four different subjects @ once. Over and over I act the events of to-day. Over and over I act the events of to-night & some of today replay: analyzing, breaking down, sorting through, then categorizing... everything.

I've given myself a headache thinking so much & stressing out. I got a letter telling me my date to go home has moved up to the 24th of this month. totally freaking out. I had to go pre release lab today, my physical & apparently my accounts closed.

On my way!!! And wouldn't this-x-gette girl love Saulfaid! I had just mailed out about 20 letters to my family telling them Dec 1st (LOL) I've gotten my heart broke. I know he loves me - he just isn't a good man for me b/c I won't accept any old way of treating me. Nope - no matter what! I've stressed behind this relationship only to find out my 100% was met with 48% of his - oh well - I am wondering if anyone realizes the fact that there are good people I'm going to have to leave her. I want to take them (Have U Seen Her?) with me. I got sisters I love like my blood. Women who treat me as their nice or daughter & this hurts my heart. They say you don't find friends in prison - But I did.

I'm stressing out so badly b/c I have to try to get all my things taken care of & I feel like I got little time. I want this to get to the point. The sooner the better.

I pray that my time goes more smoothly.
I'm fast & pray this through for real. I am
BIGGY! HA! HA! HA! HA! Home!! ,
