

October 2011

Hey kids

Unlike the groundhog which announces Spring, this groundhog announces Winter. Alas the ominous goblins of Halloween! Harbingers of longer - colder - stormy nights which... when you look at it as Nature's Rest Cycle, you see that it isn't exactly Spring-like in any way.

Isn't the symbols of our anthropocentric mythos awesome?

In any case, I do

HALLOWEEN.

out of trouble and to reflect on the past plans for your next
the Sun

wish you all a very merry

Be nice and stay use these longer nights while you develop Season in ↳ ... your next season "in the Sun" should always be better than the last.

I wish you all, all the best.

Be Blessed.
