

A WOMAN'S WORTH
WHETHER YOU'RE A WIFE, MOTHER, SISTER, DAUGHTER, OR FRIEND
YOU'RE A WOMAN AND ARE WELL WORTH IT

Black, White, Latin, Indian, or Oriental decent, it does not matter, you're a woman and are worth more than what you're given credit for. As women, not only are you working, taking care of the house, seeking careers and or higher education, but those of you with children have the burden of taking care of them whether the father is present or not.

Women with careers have to work twice as hard as a man in the same position just to get a head or promoted. However, as soon as she succeed, there is someone in the wing ready to call her a bitch or a hoe as the reason to her success.

Women, you're a lot of things but bitches and hoe's is neither. You're wives, mothers, sisters, daughters, and friends but first and foremost you're women. Do not accept or waste time with men who refer to women as bitches and hoe's or for that matter, women who make the same references.

For it's ignorance just as those who refer to black men as a niggard. But don't stress it, because anyone who can't distinguish the difference between a woman and a female dog or a garden tool is either lacking education or wants to be in your shoes.

Women, do not let Hollywood get you caught up on physical appearances such as what your height and weight should be or how you wear your hair. The length, color, and texture of your hair should be to your liking. Remember, God created you as you are, so be your self because all women are beautiful just as God intended.

Women, do not let an insecure man hold you down from following your dreams and careers. Only an insecure man who wants you to be submissive by controlling you with his finances would hate that you're independent. As an independent woman you're in a position to ask a man what can he do for you that you can't do for yourself. You must let him know that if he wants a relationship that you're an equal partner and you already have a father.

Let him know you want a man who is striving for perfection in every aspect of life and that as an independent woman you're bringing that plus a whole lot more. Let him know you want a man who strives for perfection mentally because you need conversation and mental stimulation. A man who wants to spend time together and share a laugh with you as well as an ear when you need to shed a tear.

Let him know you want a man who is striving for perfection financially because you don't need a financial burden. A man who wants to build with you so that together you can both reach higher goals. A man who is striving for perfection spiritually because you want a man who is grounded and connected with his inner self. A man who is sensitive enough to understand your needs and what you go through as a woman, but strong enough to keep you grounded without the use of violence.

God made woman to be a help mate for man, not to be a punching bag or to be submissive to his every demand. Men know this, if you respect your self and treat all women with the respect they deserve, respect your woman to the highest degree while taking care of the home front, she will not mind being submissive because she'll deem you worthy of that respect. Men remember, the same little extras you like and enjoy are the same little extras that will bring pleasures to your woman as well. So ladies, do not get short change.

Do woman ask for a lot? Maybe, but whether she's a wife, mother, sister, daughter, or friend, she's a woman and they're well worth it.
