

"For Pen-Pals"

Hi There,

My name is Crystal Roberson, but I prefer Crys for short. This meeting a man ordeal is very new to me and somewhat uncomfortable due to I've been a Lesbian all my life. However, I'm curious about the man species and desire to learn this side of life. I'm currently incarcerated here in Texas. Yes, I've made some mistakes in life, yet I've learned from them and will not be repeating them.

I love to laugh, laughter makes the heart grow fonder. I'm witty ~ funny and lovable. My interests is to become rich in character ~ that consists of integrity ~ respect, responsibility and accountability just to name a few.

To experience genuine love more than once in a lifetime. I would also like to one day return to college to further my education. I enjoy most out-door's activities.

However, would be equally satisfied with quiet romantic at home event's. Foreplay are definite turn-on's. Liars and self-centeredness are certainly turn-off's. I have disclosed 2% of my make-up. If you would like to discover the other 98%, write me back at my personal info below.
