

What I believe I Am is

11-7-11

What I give to another.

10:15 a.m.

What comes from within me informs me of what I am, and I will believe that it's me because it is the proof I myself have provided. When I am good, I feel my inherent goodness and silently call to the goodness in others. But if I extend conflict, then I am alone and call to the loneliness in others.
