

Can You Imagine?

Can you imagine living in a place or in environment where absolutely no one cares about you?

Can you imagine living in a place where you're merely a number?

Can you imagine growing old and gray all by yourself
without one single friend or companion?

Can you imagine slowly rotting away in a lonely cell?

Can you imagine time going by and no one ever remembers you existed?

Can you imagine Christmas, Thanksgiving, and New-Years passing without no one even bothering to mention your name during the holidays?

Can you imagine living miserably until you are 70, 80, or even 90 years old, when all of your family has long been dead?

I don't want to imagine only of this either. I'm only 29, but it's impossible not to when you're doing Life
in prison without the chance of parole...
