

Let it be

Another poem at ya
With rich meaning
Good and bad are nurished
By our pleantiful God

A bird or two gives way
In space that they desparately need
Springs majestic appeal-
A survival that is in us all

Man must not divide nature
There is equal ground
All we have to do-is nothing
And nature will share her secrets

BY: James Collins