

Dear Viewers,

Hello there, I welcome you to my life behind bars, these 10 years have been nothing but pain & sorrow. But, I'm at the end of my ride. Prison is a Big Cold world, it makes you feel like your in Hell. Your own family & friends leave you for dead. There's No'one to share your hope & dreams, No'one there when things get rough, your all alone when the going gets tough. No'one there to say I care or let's share, with only yourself to share the nights & days, by yourself at each & every lonely hour. When you close your eyes to doze, you think of life as it goes, how cruel it is for us only, for those of us who are lonely, Prison can draw you in and make you very evil. And prison can make you grow to a man in a day, either you fight or fall weak to the predators that lay in wait. Prison has taught me alot of good & bad, but I've used this time to correct my wrongs & not let myself fall weak to the game. You see there's times that are harder than others, but I let my release to give me hope to not get caught up in the hype. I'm so ready to get away from this life & file this as a lesson learned & try my hardest not to repeat those mistakes. Well I hope to hear from any of you who may have some advise to help me better my life back into society. Either leave a comment or write to the address below. Thank you all for your support.
