

A Thinking God

Bees early to rise
Taking just what they need
Aphids among the throng
No wonder birds are welcomed to dip
Scratching much needed spaces
Guided by God's goodness
Each petal fashioned different than the next
Some swear a different fragrance comes
With each bobbing head —
God's thoughtfulness gives awe.

— James Collins