

The Framework

Bones aged
Everything now is a task
Mystery of movement ridicules me
And laughter tapered to silence

Dew rivers down
God delighted the framework
But why did He commit
Nature to age — sin?

On the tips of butterflies
Passengers hitch rides
Bugs precious recyclers
Everything finds its place
Even pain within the body

— James Collins