Prisoner Civil-Rights Lawyer Wanted

by Nate A. Lindell P.O. Box 9900 Boscobel, WI 53805

For a Wisconsin supermax prisoner's claim of inadequate mental health care.

Why this guy is even in this prison, I can't see. I guess it's easier to put troublesome crazies in a box than treat them. He's given me verbal permission to identify him & state what I state herein, in an effort to help him secure legal counsel for a claim under the A.D.A., Rehab. Act, & Eighth Amendment. From what I know of him & could get him to explain, his claim is valid as they get.

He's been here for more than 6 years, despite:

- Being a <sup>danger to himself, but not others</sup> ~~psychotic personality disorder~~
- At least 5 suicide attempts - by hangings & overdoses
- Being diagnosed w/ Bi-Polar Disorder, A.D.H.D., Reactive Attachment Disorder, Major Depression, Impulse Control Disorder, & OCD
- Being on several psychotropic medications, one an anti-psychotic.
- Having a history of severe abuse, including his birth mom being schizophrenic & abusing drugs & alcohol during pregnancy w/ him.

Most of the inmates here pick on him, severely, because he's in for mutual fondling with a 14 year old girl, consensually, when he was 20. He's emotionally imature, stuck at... I'd say age 13-14. He's been victimized his whole life. No gang affiliation - who'd accept him?

The constant abuse by others & neglect by the system may have irreparably damaged him. Crazy, he's to get out in 11 months, despite having no living skills, no place to go, nobody who loves him, & having been needlessly caged in a supermax for 6 years.

According to the systems own policies, he's not supposed to be housed here. Common sense says he needs a lot of therapy for his many disorders, & needs help preparing for his eventually release. I doubt he'll hurt anyone when let out, at least not on purpose - but he is wholly unprepared for the adult world.

Any attorney interested in representing this guy concerning being kept in a prison that's so stark it led to 5+ suicide attempts, etc. & being denied adequate stabilization of his mental problems, you can contact him at:
