

True Talents

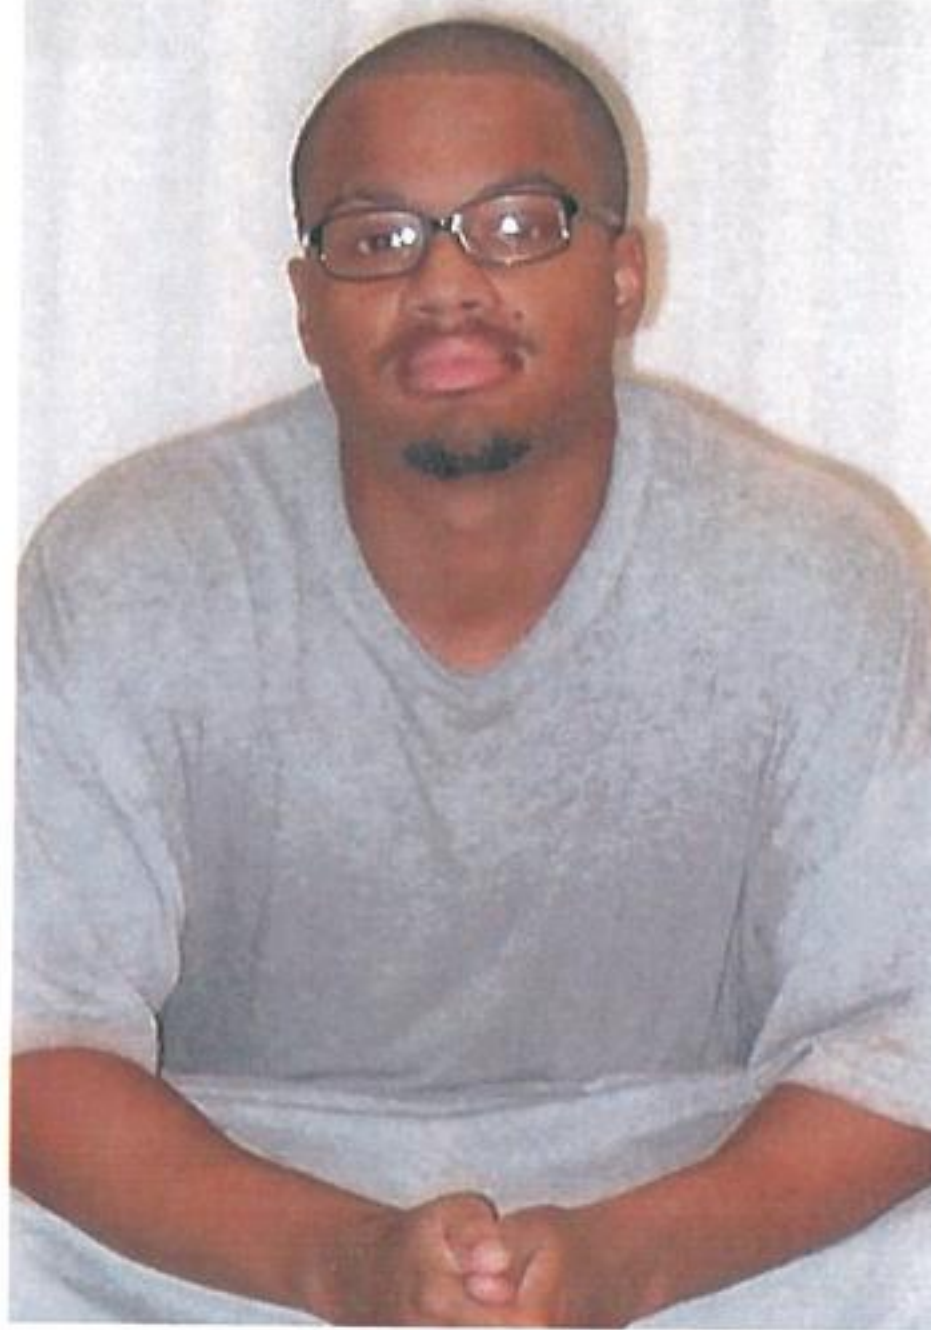

My true talents are writing raps, songs, making beats, producing, and performing. I didn't realize how talented I really was until coming to prison and I really focused on my craft.

Over the years I've written 100's of songs and raps and performed at many of the institutions I've been at, and receiving various compliments. My dream is to get out of prison and be given the opportunity to record my music and share it with the world. I believe I bring an original style of rap and R&B industry not been in the way

Who knows? will read reach out has the re contacts to a position by someone me achieve In my heart I need is to be heard will fall

If your and your in connected industry to take a "Please"

B to the that has perfected that I can. Maybe someone this blog, to me and sources or put me in to be heard who can help my dreams? I know all a chance and everything in place. reading this volved or to the music and willing risk then reach out to me and give me a chance to be heard... You won't regret it.

There are many men in prison with true talents who just need a chance to be heard... I'm one of them.
