

* Faith Is Belief Beyond Doubt *

12-9-11

Believing in something that is not seen or seems so distant is one of the most difficult task that is asked upon a man of faith. When someone at a motivation seminar tells you to "reach for the stars", do people really heed this advice and file it into their memory bank? Or do they consider this an unattainable task? Imagine if Buzz Aldridge and his fellow astronauts had the same doubt! Would America ever had made it too the moon? That's why faith is a substantial part of our human make-up. We were born to practice faith! Learning to exercise it is the hard part. When exercised beyond doubt, all fiction becomes factual. Faith propels you to the stars of your dreams. Doubt takes a stick pin and pops your dream balloon!
