

Modern-Day Slave Traits...

For most, the interactions between captor and captive can vary from person to person. Not all masters behave the same way, neither does every slave exhibit an identical pattern of behavior.

However, in the matter of the master-slave concept, there are commonalities between "gang leaders" of masters, and "gang members" as slaves. The similarities between the gang leaders role and the masters role can be found in the leaders absolute power to control the members of the gang. This control is carried out by enforcing rules on the members; Closely watching the members to ensure compliance with those rules, punishing abusing and it. And so eliminating the members through violence.

On the other hand, the resemblance of the gang member to the slave is that both are subjected to strict rules, confined, controlled, often brutalized physically as well as psychologically... Does I take the master-slave connection a step further to point out that many people of all ethnicities - have allowed themselves to be modern-day slaves. Indeed a person does not have to be black to exhibit a slave mentality... unwillingly, to many of us - and it does not matter whether you are black, Asian, Hispanic or white - perpetrators "the masters will" through our own self-hatred and destructive behavior. For those individuals who are in denial, here are some recognizable signs of self-perpetuation of slave behavior, be it in prison or in society.

- 1.) A modern-day slave will neglect to educate him or herself, which in turn creates mental slavery and guarantees someone will become his/her master.

- 2.) A modern-day Slave will Swindle and Commit Other Crimes against his own people and others instead of help to break the chains of poverty by loving and honest living.
- 3.) A modern-day Slave will perpetuate Self-hatred through Committing Violence on people of his same ethnicity, such as black-on-black violence, including murder, which is a form of Genocide.
- 4.) A modern-day Slave will deal, buy and/or use drugs that will make him and others function as Slaves (addicts) to drugs. Slaves to misery and Slaves to debt.
- 5.) A modern-day Slave will adopt the wicked ways of the Slave Master who disrespects and abuses women.
- 6.) A modern-day Slave will abandon his children - leaving them for someone else to raise - not caring about their fate.
- 7.) A modern-day Slave will Facetiously Commit Crimes that causes him/her to end up behind bars, incarcerated, in mental and physical bondages.

Take a look at the above list. Then look inside yourself for any similarities. Seek to eliminate any of these traits you have. If you don't admit to any of these traits you may have. If you can't admit to any of the seven signs, you are in denial. The first step toward defeating a Slave mentality begins with your acknowledgement that it exists.
