I watch all types of inter net sensations on tv and it seems like over night someone can get thousands or even millions of hits in no time. After watching a 20/20 special about You Tube. I thought to myself..... Is it possible for me to campaign to get 1000 responses in 2012?

They say once word spreads online about something its instantaneous and I'm very curious if those online can help me get "1000 response' in one year!" Its unbelievable to me that is even possible especially given the fact what I write about is so boring (HA HA). However, it would be amazing to watch it all unfold.

Every time I sit and write its an honor and privilege to share a part of myself with those reading my entries. In the time it takes me to write; its time that I get to escape my circumstances and this cell that confines me from day to day. I'm grateful to share all that I do, and I'm thankful for your support.

With all that being said, "STOP" what your doing and text, tweet, face book, or e-mail my blog information to any and everyone you know..... we got a thousand responses to rake in (HA HA). Take care, thanks again, and be peaceful.

W E L C O M E . . . . . 2 0 1 2

I'm actually writing this blog entry as 2011 comes to a close. I swear New Years is the same in prison..... boring (HA HA). This year though, I find joy in writing something to send out in the free world.

For some reason I think 2012 will bring some great things for those who least expects it. A woman will recover from breast cancer, a son will come home from prison with his act together, someone's business will take off, an old friend will forgive a past transgression, that leaky sink will get fixed, people will get along in Congress.....well probably not that one, (HA HA) but a lot of good things are to come in 2012.

My goal for 2012 is to concentrate on what I need to do as I get closer to freedom. The end is near for me and I plan on taking a serious approach to how I finish doing my time. I also want to promote my blog more..... I think this platform is excellent in meeting positive people, networking, getting and receiving motivation and encouragement, as well as expressing myself in ways I can't behind these walls.

I welcome 2012 and all the good and bad that will come with it. In 2012 achieve a goal, conquer a fear, overcome an obstacle, or simply try something new. I thank you in advance for supporting my blog, your kind words, inspiring sorties, and motivation.
